Fire Ceremony of the North Siwar Q'Enti

Open Sacred Space
Open Wiracocha
Light Candle/Fire
Tune in with Swira Q'Enti
Offer your personal prayer

May I be a clear flute so the energy of the Cosmos may play its music through me.
May I explore how to be still and listen to the wisdom
That flows to and through me from many Sources.
May I live this wisdom, share it when prompted, and seek Assistance of my Healing Lineages and Wisdom Councils.
May I recognize the wisdom of my Soul and trust this Guidance completely as I receive the higher dream.
May I remember to drink of the sweetest nourishment which restores my lightness of being and spreads joy to others.
May I know the strength within my mind and body
As I courageously walk toward my dreams and goals.
May I claim my place as a Wise Woman and use my gifts to Benefit others, Pachamama, and the Cosmic harmony.

Aho

Light follows light. Rising upon the highest currents brings joy, beauty, and sweetness to life.

Step 1
Preparing your Offerings

The North has Beautiful Questions and Hummingbird has offered 4 more.
Spend time with each one. They have layers.
It is helpful to ask the question, record the answer, and ask "what else?"

What breaks your heart (personal history, community, earth, world)?

What frees your heart?

What are you dreaming? and what is being dreamed around you?

What is your commitment - tiny or large; now or in the future time line; in your neck of the woods, around the world, or in the multidimensional arena?

Step 2
Releasing with Death Arrows.

When opening Sacred Space, you called the Ancient Ones to your fire. In the North Direction, these same Wise Ones have called you to their fire. Tune in to the Grandmothers, Grandfathers, Hampe Lineage of Healers, and your Ancestors. As you offer your prayers with each toothpick to the fire, listen as they may have wisdom to share with you.

Step 3 Creating 4 Life Arrows

Cleared and renewed, you offer your gratitude to the fire, Swira Q'Enti and all etheric elements and lineages who assisted with your ceremony of release and healing.

#1 Healing for Pachamama - Now and Future

The North is the Dreaming Space so you are also doing this ceremony for future generations. Blow into your toothpick all your prayers for the wellbeing of Pachamama and all her children.

#2 Healing for Doubt, Distraction, Despair

There are times on every path that arise these troubling Ds. Offer them to the fire with any specifics of how they (or related feelings are present) AND a general offering of when they will arise again. In this action, you practically recognize, own, and accept your human nature without judgment.

#3 Healing for Being Stuck in Scheduled Time

Linear time and your social conditioning traps you in a limited dream, shared by humanity.

The North is the realm of the Soul, outside of time.
Offer your prayer that you may let go your focus upon your relative reality (your personal story) and tune into the timing of the Cosmos.
Everything appears in the perfect time and you live in sync with this way of being.

#4 Healing for your Self Importance

This is the time to let go of your doing, your roles that define you, and your self importance as the center of the Universe.
Releasing the need to “know,” take action, or be seen as one who contributes. Instead you witness and trust.
Emptying in stillness, you sit at the fire with the Wise Ones.
Listening. Emptying of Opinion. Becoming Teachable.
Now the Dreaming of the Universe is able to be perceived in the hints, signs, symbols, and synchronicities.

Step 4 Honoring your 3 Wisdom Centers with Fire and Sage or Lavender

The Fire now offers its healing energy to fill your 3 Seeded Centers: belly, heart, heart. So you may create from the realm of potential rather than from a history of trauma. So you may listen and perceive the Cosmic Dream operating in Divine Timing. And participate in harmony (reciprocity) with life as it happens.

You may light sage and use this to bring the energy into your 3 centers.
If this isn't possible or preferred, you may use the fire first and then share lavender essential oil with your 3 wisdom spaces.

Draw your hand over the flame 3x as you bring the light into your Belly: the space of right action and manifestation
Heart: the space of right relationship and love
Third Eye: the space of clear vision and new perception
Offer your gratitude to the fire and your own body of light.

With gratitude to All, close your Wiracocha and Sacred Space

Witness the fire as it dies (no water), use snuffer, or let candle burn down naturally (with supervision).

Release Swira Q'Enti. Aho
Journal. Drink fluids. Rest body. Listen to inner wisdom.
